

Statement of Support from the Long Island University Faculty Federation

Dear Martin,

I write with solidarity greetings from the Long Island University Faculty Federation, NYSUT/AFT. We are following your strike under arduous conditions. A statement approved by our Executive Committee is pasted below.

In solidarity,

Emily Drabinski
President, Long Island University Faculty Federation

Dear Colleagues,

The Long Island University Faculty Federation sends our support and solidarity to the striking members of the AAUP faculty union at Wright State University. We understand too well the challenge of working with a management that seeks to resolve administratively-produced crises on the backs of faculty and students. We have also watched our administration attempt to replace us in our classrooms with attendance takers. We too have stood on picket lines, signed petitions, and attended rallies as we fight for the heart of the university--students and the teachers who share their classrooms. We stand in solidarity with you in your fight for a fair contract.

In solidarity,
The Officers and Executive Committee of the LIUFF
